

Quest Media & Communication Information Pack

Your Business. Your People. Your Safety.

Quest Media & Communication Information Pack

This pack contains guidance notes and information based on how you can share content and information produced by Quest.

Company Biography

Detailed below is company biography for Quest which you can use both online and in print for the purposes of describing the business.

Should you require any unique content or more detailed information about Quest for a particular feature please contact our Marketing Team.

Biography

For over two decades Quest has been providing human resources and health and safety solutions for individual businesses and membership organisations throughout the UK. Our reputation for quality of service has enabled us to establish long-lasting relationships with many prestigious organisations.

By integrating the latest technology and innovative insurance, with a highly experienced team of business partners, Quest has become a market leading provider.

We have made it our responsibility to fully understand client needs before personalising solutions. This ensures that Human Resources, Health and Safety and training solutions complement client organisations' strategic plans, helping them to concentrate on achieving their goals.

Unlike some other providers Quest has developed a complete solution to client Human Resource and Health and Safety needs. With all the elements of support, security and protection being provided by Quest 'under one roof'.

In 2018 Quest launched the Quest Office, a revolutionary new HR software platform. By integrating an Employee Management System, document libraries and Adminlite and then combining it with practical compliant business friendly advice, they have made the management of Human Resources and Health and Safety a significantly less stressful experience.

Quest is part of the Vantage Protect Group of companies.

For more information regarding Quest visit www.questcover.com

Quest Media & Communication Information Pack

You are welcome to use our company logo alongside any mention of Quest in both online and print mediums. Detailed below are specific brand guidelines for using our logo.

Where your website/print has a white background please use this logo:

Where your website/print has a dark background please use one of the following:

Both of these logos can be cut from this document.

Should you require a copy of a logo in a different size, file format or to any other specification please contact our Marketing Team.

Colour

Orange

CMYK: 0, 76, 87, 0
#ea592a

Charcoal

CMYK: 78, 63, 45, 42
#202020

White

CMYK: 0, 0, 0, 0
#ffffff

Use of Content

When using any content from Quest please credit Quest as the author and link back to www.questcover.com.

If you have the facility to link canonically from an article or guide Quest have produced please do so. Within the code of the Quest article you have used a snippet of code should appear, for example:

```
<link rel="canonical" href="http://www.questcover.com/news/employment-legislation-2018"/>
```

Articles / QView / QFocus

All articles are provided in within the website newsfeed and can be used in the following ways:

- Articles can be published online as a PDF (with a link back to the original)
- Articles can be published in print (with reference back to the original source)

Please also note that some articles are time sensitive and may go out of date rendering the content invalid. If you wish to publish any content that is older than three months, please seek prior consent from the Marketing Team.

Requests for Quotes/Commentary/View & Opinions

If you would like Quest to provide you with a quote/commentary on a specific item in the media; write an article for your online or print mediums then please contact our Marketing team.

Contacts

Marketing
Steven Bailey sbailey@vantageandpartners.com

Contact us to find out how we can support you

www.questcover.com

hello@questcover.com

01455 852028
